County To Get $368,229 From Gasoline Tax

Governor Announces Biennial Apportionment For Use In Road Work

By ELWOOD SUIRES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 23 UP)—San Mateo county will receive $368,229 during the next two years from the state, to be used on the county's road system.

The apportionment was announced by Governor James Rolph when he submitted his budget for the coming biennium to the state legislature. A grand total of $31,522,500 will be distributed among the 58 counties in California.

Derived from the three cent gasoline tax, hiyhway transportation companies tax and motor vehicle fees, California's plan of "pay-as-you-go," in building highways was declared by the governor in his message to the legislature to be "thoroughly satisfactory and successful."

A total of $110,383,010 will be available from these sources during the two year period and will be divided as follows: $70,080,760 to be spent by the state, $6,758,260 for division of motor vehicles, highway patrol, etc., and $63,322,500 net available for actual road expenditures; $3,779,750 for interest and redemption of highway bonds; and $31,522,500 to counties.

"Since the public is being served and all citizens are interested in the highway system, there should be a frank informing of the public in advance as to where and how it is proposed to spend highway funds," the chief executive declared in his message.

There are now 6,581 miles authorized in the state highway system, the governor explained. Of these, 4,286 mils are primary and 2,295 secondary roads. Of this total mileage 2,669 miles were graded and paved; 2,243 miles were only graded and not yet paved or surfaced; the remainder of 1,669 miles as yet had no work done upon them by the state.

Maintenance of secondary roads continues to increase and indications are that greater improvement in paving would be on economy measure, the message said.

"With this condition existing," Governor Rolph declared, "it would appear unwise to add more roads to the highway system without most careful and adequate consideration of the entire problem of state highways and how the suggested expansion would fit into a continuous program of highway improvement."

Anniversary of Boy Scouting To Be Celebrated

Week of February 6th to 13th To Be Observed as 21st Scout Birthday

Boy Scout Anniversary Week will be celebrated this year during the week of February 6th through the 13th. February 6 will mark the observance of the 21st birthday of the Boy Scout movement in this country. Three events of outstanding importance to the nation will mark the celebration. On the evening of February 6th, more than 1,800,000 Scouts and their leaders will stand at attention and re-dedicate themselves to the principles of the Scout Oath and Law. On February 9th, in nearly every city and hamlet of the country, Scouts will mobilize to perform a community good turn. It will be a spectacular demonstration of the rapidity with which Scouts can be mobilized for emergency service at any time. On February 10th, patriotic pilgrimages to the graves of Presidents of the United States and to other places of historic interest will be taken by many Scouts.

At 8:15 P. M. on February 6th, the re-dedication ceremonies will be observed. Every Scout, wherever he may be, will stand at attention and re-dedicate himself to the principles for which the Scout Oath and the Scotch Law stand. Boy Ccouts—Troop Scouts, Sea Scouts, Lone Scouts and Rural Scouts—representatives of every section of the country and of every type of American home will "Be Prepared" to pledge themselves anew to the ideals and objectivs of the Scout movement, which in its 21 years of progress in this country has become the greatest organized effort on behalf of boys of which history holds record.

This year's anniversary week will be of special significance because, it is marking the 21st birthday of the Boy Scouts of America. The Boy Scouts of America was incorporated in Washington, D. C. on February 8, 1910. In England, the movement had been launched three years before by General Sir Robert Baden-Powell its founder.

Advisor Named For County Assessors

By ELWOOD SQUIRES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 23. (UP)—San Mateo county's assessor will now have a personal "contract man" at California's State Capitol following appointment of Ed. J. Kay, former Sacramento county assessor, by the state board of equalization as state advisor to county assessors.

The state board decided, after a thorough investigation, that condition of the work of assessors' offices in the 58 counties of California could only be achieved by creating a central agency to confer with the assessors.

"The state board concluded that many of the taxing agencies of California are poorly equipped," said Kay, "through lack of up-to-date maps and other necessary equipment, to function properly.

"It is the desire of the board to put forth every endeavor to remedy handicaps, so that assessors may be provided with every means to facilitate preparation of the county assesment rolls."

The plan was unanimously endorsed by the California County Assessors' Association in state convention last fall, and provision for the office was made in Governor Rolph's new state budget.

Kay will travel from one county seat to another, discussing common problems with the assessors and aiding them in perfecting organization of their offices.

Assessor of Sacramento county for 15 years and chief deputy to the assessor there for 13 years previously, Kay is said to be well qualified for the new post. Although he has been out of active work as an assessor for several years, Kay has maintained his relations with county assessors and at present is a member of the legislative committee of the assessors' association.

FLINT, Mich. (UP)— Police department squad cars here will be of the open touring type. Department heads decided closed cars were so comfortable the officers might not be overly alert.

Millbrae Votes Against Move For Annexation

Plan To Join Burlingame Fails To Carry At Election

Millbrae residents do not want to become a part of Burlingame. They appear to be very positive on this particular point. On Tuesday an election was held at which time the residents of Millbrae and Millbrae Park were to decide whether or not they desired to have their property annexed to Burlingame. The results of the election were that 230 people voted against the annexation and only 68 favored it.

The results of the election were quite surprising in view of the fact that 168 residents of the district had signed the petition which was presented to the city council of Burlingame asking that an election be called.

The district sought to be annexed to Burlingame consisted of about 500 acres including Millbrae, Millbrae Park and a portion of the famous Mills estate. During the campaign for annexation, opponents of the move proposed that the district be incorporated into a separate municipality. This money may be taken later.

Kiwanians Hear Talk and Humor

An inspiring talk with a decided Scotch flavor was given to members of the Redwood City Kiwanis club Wednesday at the regular noon meeting of that organization. The speaker was Robbie Robertson, banker of Oakland, and wellknown Rotarian.

Robertson, during the whole time of his talk, kept the members of the Kiwanis club in laughter. Scotch and Irish jokes filled his address. In addition to his humor the speaker left many an inspiring thought. He spoke of Robert Burns, the Scottish bard, and told how he had written far in advance of his time. Burns, he said, would have enjoyed the modern service club and the good feeling and fellowship inspired by its weekly gathering.

The chairman of the meeting was Edward Harrison, manager of the First National Bank, and past president of the club.

A report on the play "The Whole Town's Talking," was given by B. E. Myers business manager of the production.

Thieves Rob Home In Hillsborough

A former servant girl and a man staged a daring daylight robbery in the Hillsborough home of Richard Van Hoosear, milling company head. The servant, who had been discharged the week beore for inefficiency, entered the home with her male companion, while Mrs. Van Hoosear was away, and only the cook was in the house. Mrs. Dinsmoore, the cook, was surprised upon stepping into the hallway to find an unknown man standing there.

The man told her that she would not be harmed, and in a minute the discharged servant appeared. She and the man fastened Mrs. Dinsmoore's hands behind her and closed her mouth putting adhesive tape across it. She was then locked in a closet.

When Mrs. Van Hoosear returned she was met by the man with a pistol, and he and the discharged maid bound her similarly, and she was placed in the same closet as the cook. The women managed in time to free their hands, and escaped from the closet to notify the Hillsborough police. By the time that they had freed themselves from the closet the bandits had left the place and had taken the Van Hoosear car and driven away. From the Van Hoosear home they are charged with having taken a fur coat valued at $600, two diamond rings, valued at $2200 each, a fur neckpiece, valued at $100 and a number of other articles whose value can only be estimated.

The car was later found abandoned in San Francisco, and is being examined for finger prints by San Francisco police.

City Sued For Bell Injuries

A suit was placed on file in the Superior court of this county on Wednesday in which the city of Redwood City is made defendant in an action for $5000 as the result of the death of the 15-year-old son of Manuel Vierra, plaintiff in the action. The boy was injured when he was struck by a heavy El Camino Real bell which fell upon him while he was standing beneath it.

The father claims that the boy's death was the result of the injuries sustained from the falling bell, and that the city was negligent in allowing the standard which supported the bell to become rusty and unsafe.

Fog or Sunlight?

How many times in your life have you had the experience of looking down on the fog? From airplane or mountaintop it is a dramatic sight. Child of the Pacific, it billows and rolls, blotting out towns, rivers and hills, spreading a glory all its own over the land. Uplifted in body and soul, a line from "The Holy City" comes to mind: . . . "New earth there seemed to be . . . ."

Looking up into the fog, or being enveloped in it, is a familiar sensation. There is a feeling of unreality about the world — a mixture of bafflement, mystery, unease. Substantial, matter-of-fact automobiles and cable cars lose their crispness of outline. Tops of buidings disappear in low-hanging clouds. Along shore, ships turn to ghosts, and foghorns and sirens play tuneless organ music. The world is narrowed down, the heavens are shut out. Space does not exist.

Suddenly one sharpened beam of sunshine pierces the fog, a heavenly spotlight turned on one bit of earth. A hillside patch of sunny poppies reflects the golden rays; a tiny blue rain pool turns suddenly to liquid gold. The fog is vanishing! Here comes the sun!

Haven't we all in our lives known the fog of petty worry, fear, discontent, envy and all the other little meannesses that smother our best selves? But why stay underneath that blanket, like timid souls afraid at night? Let's stand up straight and trudge stoutly ahead through life, just as our pioneering forefathers trudged westward, with faith in the future never wavering. Occasionally we shall find those patches of sunlight, more often perhaps the way will be clouded. But sometime we shall climb above the fog and see it for what it is: a watery veil hiding the beauty that lies before our eyes.

Pay Your Debts

Many people are taking advantage of the present "hard times" by not paying their debts. Some are not even trying to pay them while others cannot. If more folks would pay their debts, business would be better.

Its a sad fact that people are not as prompt about paying their honest obligations as they were several years ago. What we need right now is more common every day honesty.

The time is near when all business will be on a cash basis. This will eventually prove a good thing both for the buyer as well as the seller. Ask any retailer who has "gone broke" and he will tell you that too much credit ruined him. It will ruin any business, no firm can meet its obligations that does not collect its accounts.

One of the reasons children are not better seems to be because they associate with older persons so much.

The Veteran's Bonus

In view of the fact that a payment by the government of the veterans' bonuses given after the war has been urged to aleviate the present economic depression, an explanation of this bonus as issued by Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans' affairs at Washington, is interesting at this time.

The history of the veterans' bonus is explained by Hines as follows:

"Congress in May of 1924 voted to adjust the compensation of veterans, with certain exceptions, $1.00 per day for service in the United States, and $1.25 per day for service overseas. When the amount so earned, less the $60 bonus, exceeded $50, the credit was used to purchase a paid-up endowment policy to mature at the end of 20 years. Because of not making a cash settlement, the veteran was credited with an additional 25 per cent on account of such deferred payment. At the present there are outstanding 3,395,000 certificates with a maturity value of $3,240,000,000. The policies average somewhat over $1,000 apiece.

"At the time legislation was enacted, provision was made whereby the veterans could borrow on their certificate after it had been in effect for two years, an amount based on a reserve value. As most of the certificates were dated January 1, 1925, the veteran hoders thereof can now borrow on their certificates up to 22½ percent of the maturity value, or over $225 on the average certificate.

"On January 1, it was estimated that 1,600,000 veterans availed themselves of these privileges to the extent of borrowing about $300,000,000 of a total loan value of $725,000,000. The remaining $425,000,000 is available for loans during 1931. During January it is anticipated that loans will be made to 300,000 certificate holders totalling approximately $20,000,000. No doubt the availability of these funds will be helpful to those veterans who find it necessary to make loans at this particular time."

Eject Old Gloom Right Now

Not prosperity, but better business, we believe is in sight. For a great many weeks we have heard the comment that it was just around the corner. Now we can go around the corner and bring it into the main thoroughfare if we will. We have gone through one of the most serious depressions in the history of the country, over the greatest length of time, and one that we could not have bridged years ago, before we had a federal reserve banking law as a stabilizer.

What we need now more than anything else is a retail trade that will buy. Stocks are at a low ebb. A purchase today, if only a small one, will have a tendency to set the wheels of industry turning. When wheels turn, men work—and when men work there is a buying power that means better times.

The newspapers since the first of the year have recorded from nearly every state the fact that men are being put back to work. All this is bound to make better times. We would say to the retailer and the manufacturer, "Now is your time to get together. Buy constructively and conservatively." If we put "buy" in the foreground and build around it with orders the depression will have made its exit and we will see prosperity coming over the hill.

The Times-Gazette, like all other newspapers, receives many unsigned communications, some of which are worthy of publication, but which go into the wastepaper basket because their authors are not identified. Anonymous letters can be accorded no recognition.

BUDDIE AND HIS FRIENDS

BY ROBERT L. DICKEY

Love's Sacrifice

By Mildred Barbour

The woman drew back in anger and disgust. "I'll see that Dr. Randolph hears of this," she said.

CONCERNING THE ACTION AND CHARACTERS

Sally Todd and Lois Montgomery seek careers in New York. Sally enters hospital training, after despairing of a career in the movies, and Lois marries a wealthy man many years her senior. Their paths diverge somewhat, for Lois's husband disapproves of Sally, who is very gay. On several occasions, after late parties, she has taken drugs to carry her through the day and is dismissed from the hospital. Lois provides her with a home and Dr. Dale Randolph offers her a job. She falls in love with him. He is strongly attracted to Lois. Sally, befuddled by drugs, tells him she loves him. He dismisses her, but Lois persuades him to give her another chance. Sally, instead of being grateful, becomes jealous. Lois's husband is informed that she is in love with Randolph. He watches her closely, particularly when she is in Randolph's company. Sally's brother, Bert, who was in love with Lois at home, comes to New York. Sally tells him Lois is unhappily married and still in love with him. His attentions to Lois bring a remonstrance from Walton. Lois does not suspect that her husband, who resents her failure to aid him in realizing his social ambitions, is getting very tired of her. Hoping to find her in some indiscretion, he has her shadowed. He enlists Sally as an ally.

Resolutions

Lois was relieved, when she returned to the drawing-room to find that Dr. Randolph had left. At the sight of Sally, she held out both hands and smiled. Then her gaze lighted on Dale Randolph's note, and she interrupted her greeting to snatch it up and read it. For a moment she stood lost in thought. Then she became aware that Sally was watching her keenly, and she said:

"I'm sorry you didn't come a little sooner. Dr. Randolph was here for tea. He spoke of wanting to stop off at your house on the way home. He's probably been there by now."

Sally took a cup of tea and stared moodily ahead of her. "Why'd he want to see me?" she asked finally.

"No special reason. Just wanted to know how you are," replied Lois. She eyed Sally compassionately, noting how drawn her face was, how dry her skin, how lusterless her eyes.

"I've been sort of thinking of doing what you two urged me to do a while ago," said Sally. "I can't seem to get over this thing by myself. I guess a sanitarium is the thing, all right."

"I'm glad you've come to that decision," Lois returned. "The doctor will make all the arrangements, and I'll be only too glad to see to the rest."

For a long time she and Dr. Randolph had urged Sally to undergo treatment to cure herself of the habit of using drugs. But Sally had steadily refused to enter a sanitarium. She sometimes denied that she used drugs.

"Of course, I don't want her to think of herself as an addict," Dr. Randolph had told Lois. "But I'm afraid she will become one, if we don't succeed in getting her to a cure. I wish I knew where she gets the stuff. She signed my name to a score of prescription blanks, I know, and she must have stolen a lot from me, but that supply must be gone by now."

Now that Sally had decided to undergo treatment, Lois felt that not a moment ought to be lost in getting her to a sanitarium.

"Let's see Dr. Randolph about it tomorrow," she urged. "Perhaps he can arrange to have you admitted to a hospital at once."

"Well," Sally hesitated, "I can't go this minute. I want to have a few days to get ready. And I must see Bert."

"Bert?" echoed Lois. "Why is it necessary to see him?"

"I have to prepare him, don't I?" said Sally. "I don't want him finding out through someone else and writing home about it. I'll tell him I'm having a rest cure, or something."

"I suppose that is wise," assented Lois, "but don't delay any longer than is absolutely necessary."

"I won't," Sally promised. "Really, I won't. And will you come over and help me pack and everything? I suppose I'll need some new things. It isn't like being sick in a hospital, you know."

"I'll come any time you say," Lois said. "Just say when you want me."

She walked to the door with Sally and waved to her as she went down the drive. Then she walked back to the drawing-room. She looked on the tea-tray for Dr Randolph's card, but it was not there. She turned up the davenport cushions and examined the chairs. The card had disappeared.

"It's of no importance," she said to herself, "but what could have happened to it?"

Sally, meanwhile, having gotten out of sight of the house, was staring at the visiting-card on which Dr. Randolph had written a note to Lois — "Please let me see you tomorrow. I will telephone you." She read the words over and over, as if she were trying to find some hidden meaning in them.

She tucked the card into a little pocket in her purse, and, a few minutes later, was handing it to James Walton's agent, who met her at her gate. "Tell Mr. Walton that I'm seeing Dr. Randolph tomorrow," she said.

The next day she went to the doctor's office without first telephoning for an appointment. She thought that there might be a chance of finding Lois there, if she went unannounced. It was late in the afternoon when she reached the city, and she was tired and her nerves were jumpy.

The waiting-room was empty, except for one patient—a woman—and the nurse was nowhere to be seen. Sally took off her hat and coat and sank into a chair. But she was too fatigued to sit still. She felt as if a weight were pressing upon her head, and it seemed to her that the muscles of her face were twitching.

It was torture to think that in the supply closet off the waiting-room was a little phial containing the dose that would give her ragged nerves the relief they craved. She had always kept the key in the top drawer of the dsk. Perhaps it was there now. She rose and sauntered over to the desk. The top drawer was open on a crack, and she could see the key inside. Quickly she grasped it and made for the hall. She was unlocking the supply closet when a footfall behind her made her turn around.

The other patient, whom she had forgotten entirely, was standing there. She looked at Sally accusingly. "I'm going to call the doctor," she said. "You're a thief."

Sally broke into a torrent of threats. The woman drew back in anger and disgust. "I'll see that the doctor hears of this," she said, and pounded on the door that led from the hall to Randolph's private office. He opened it at once and took in the situation at a glance.

That night he telephoned James Walton. "I must ask you to break some disagreeable news to your wife," he said. "I am having Miss Todd committed to a sanitarium tomorrow for the drug cure."

The BEST Gray Hair Remedy is Home Made

To half pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It will gradually darken streaked, faded or gray hair and make it soft and glossy. Barbo will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

Stanford To Meet Bear Cage Teams

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 20—For the second successive week, Coach John Bunn has hung the "Keep Out" sign on the doors of the Stanford Pavilion as he prepares his Indian basketball team for the first game of its annual series with the California Bears. This contest is scheduled for next Saturday night in the Oakland Auditorium.

California is heading the race in the Southern Division of the Pacific Coast Conference with two victories and no defeats while Stanford is bringing up the rear with one victory and three defeats, and the Bears will go into Saturday's contest, the favorites, as usual. However, Cardinal supporters have an idea that Bunn's quintet has an excellent chance to upset the Blue and Gold.

On February 21, 1925, a Stanford basketball team defeated California 16-15 in the Stanford Pavilion. Since that date casaba aggregations of the two rivals have met fourteen times over a period of 6 years and the redskins have bitten the dust on each occasion.

The improvement displayed by the Stanford quintet in its second game with Southern California last Saturday night has caused Cardinal followers to look upon the first California game with some optimism. While defeating the Trojans 28-21, the redshirts presented an almost perfect defense and a somewhat improved offense. The Cards still fall far short of satisfying Coach Bunn on offense but occasionally took advantage of their quick break Saturday night.

Bunn will depend upon the same five men who have been doing most of the work to date, against California. This combination includes Phil Moffatt and Tom Cordry at forwards, Captain Mike Reynolds at center, and Vance Fawcett and Rudy Rintala at guards. Reynolds is just beginning to find himself at the pivot position and can do the Bears plenty of harm Saturday night if he is tanking his "set-ups" as he did in the second Trojan encounter. Moffatt is playing a fine all around game and doing his share of scoring. Cordry did some stellar defensive work Saturday. Fawcett's accurate passing and clever dribbling contributed a great deal to Southern California's downfall and Rintala has apparently found his eye for the basket. If this combination functions as it can against Nibs Price's team, an upset may be written into the books.

Eagle Cagers Win From Mt. View

Strengthened by the appearance of Bob Albers, former Sequoia star, A. Bechet's Redwood City Eagles' Basketball team had rather an easy time defeating the Mountain View Athletic Club in the Sequoia gym Tuesday night. The score was 34 to 24. In the preliminary game the Redwood Native Sons downed the South San Francisco Natives by a count of 26 to 17.

Albers, playing forward for the Eagles, was high score man of the evening with 16 points. Albers lent much strength to the already formidable local aggregation, which is now being coached by Frank Griffin, athletic director at Sequoia. The Redwood outfit played a smooth running attack, the other forwards feeding Albers most of the time, As a result of this, Lutje cut down his own scoring of the evening.

In the Native Sons game Captain Jimmy McKay led in the scoring with 10 points.

Band Beats Blocks In Cherokee League

With Harold Kniveton leading the offense, the Band and Orchestra team defeated the Block "S" Society 9 to 8 Wednesday in the semi-finals of the Cherokee Basketball League now in progress at Sequoia Union high school Wednesday.

The Band and Orchestra now has three victories and no defeats to its credit and will battle the Boys' Council team, which also has three victories and no setbacks for the championship.

In another contest played Wednesday, the Iota Zeta team defeated the Japanese aggregation 52 to 7. Matheson and McGuire were the big threats of the Iota Zetans and managed to score a total of 50 points between them.

Sequoia To Meet San Mateo Fives

In their second league game this Friday evening in the Sequoia Union high school gymnasium, the Cherokee quintets will face the San Mateo Bearcats in a double-header.

The Bearcats have a fine practice record behind them and are considered the biggest threats of the league along with the Cherokees. Tonight's battle will probably give fans their first inkling of the possible Peninsula Athletic League champ in the unlimited division.

Against Burlingame last Friday, the Indian varsity played brilliantly and won 37 to 23. The Cherokees, however, will be without the services of Bob Alber and "Chuck" De Lacy when they face the Bearcats. The latter are also considered stronger than the Burlingame Panthers.

Tomorrow evening the Sequoia varsity travels to Santa Clara for a practice game with the Santa Clara freshmen, while the following Tuesday the varsity goes to Bellarmine to battle the Santa Clara Preps.

Although the 130's were defeated in their first league game by the Burlingame outfit, they expct to give the Bearcats a stiff battle in this evening's games.

Coach Frank Griffin, Cherokee hoop coach, will probably replace Alber at forward with Cullen, and put the former 130-pound star, Morgan, at guard in DeLacy's old position.

Following is the tentative Cherokee lineup for this evening's battle:

Varsity	130's
LeRoy, forward	Peri
Cullen, forward	Harris
Langbehn, center	Graham
Bugge, guard	West
Morgan, guard	Wohlken

Sequoia Boxers To Meet Menlo

By VERNON BARNES

With Menlo school as their first opposition, the Sequoia Union high school boxing team has been putting in some good work in preperation for its initial meet to be held within the next two weeks. Sequoia is well represented in each division, with Captain George Hoenck veteran welterweight, the mainstay of the team.

New equipment, including gloves, skipping ropes, head guards, and light and heavy punching bags, has been secured to afford the boxers thorough training. Clay Hite, the new boxing instructor at Sequoia, had his charges practice in fundamentals of boxing for several weeks before allowing them to don the gloves for actual boxing.

Little is known of the strength of the Menlo outfit, although they were defeated last season by the Cherokees who succeded in winning eight of twelve bouts. Several veterans from last year's squad are back on hand and prospects for a successful season looks promising.

High School Notes

By GEORGE SCHROEDER

Dancing under the lamps of a street in New Orleans will be the experience of students of Sequoia Union high school at the all-school "hop" to be given February 7. With the Mardi Gras as a motif, plans are nearing completion. One of the features of the dance will be a small admission of only twenty-five cents, which is expected to draw a large crowd.

The Press club will sell noise makers in a booth, and Delta Theta Chi will sell serpentine and confetti. Lota Zeta club will have punch for sale..

Many personal invitations are being sent out to alumni who graduated last year, while many others who graduated earlier are expected to come. This dance is the first of its kind, according to Ruth Heiner, commissioner of girls' activities.

Patrons and patronesses are Messrs. and Mesdames Clarence Argo, Donald Bogie, and Otis Carrington; Miss Esther Higgins, Leonard Casanova and Frank Griffin.

The arrangements committee is composed of Ruth Heiner, Bertha Potts, Phyllis Blackington, Al Cleland, Mary Bell, Richard Martin, Austa Burch, George Ballou, Arline Castagnino, and Max Greene.

Electing Al Cleland, president, Richard Martin vice-president and Ed Wickstrom secretary-treasurer, Iota Zeta, boys' service club of Sequoia Union high school, held its regular meeting Thursday, January 7. Cleland and Wickstrom are seniors and Martin is a junior.

They succeed Andy Bright, president, Bill Morinan, vice-president, and Frank Goldthwaite, secretary and treasurer, who were the club's officers last year. Mr. Ramon Dimick, boys' physical education instructor, is the advisor of the organization.

ENGLISH HORSE RUNNER-UP FOR FOX AS WINNER

LONDON, Jan. 23 (UP)—Gallant Fox's remarkable total of $328,165 is about $40,000 ahead of the English record held by Isinglass.

The latter, by Isonomy out of Dead Lock, by Wenlock, won approximately $287,275 in stakes. He was foaled in 1890, and retired from the turf when a five-year-old. An old timer named Donovan won approximately $275,775, and in recent times, Coronach, winner of the 1926 Derby, credited Lord Woolavington with roughly $241,120.

While Gallant Fox, during two seasons, suffered defeat on six occasions out of a total of 17 starts, Isinglass appeared a dozen times, and was only beaten once. As a two-year-old the English champion ran unbeaten. He won a maiden plate at Newmarket, the New Stakes at Ascot, and the Middle Park Stakes at Newmarket.

When a three-year-old Isinglass won three classics, namely the 2,000 guineas' stakes, the Epson Derby, and the St. Leger. The value of the latter two races was then about $25,000, or roughly half of their values in recent years.

Besides the classic wins which earned for him the name of a "triple-crown champion," Isinglass won, in the same year, the Newmarket stakes, and sustained his only defeat in the Lanchashire plate at Liverpool. In that race he carried 137 pounds, and was beaten a length by Raeburn, ((same age received 10 pounds.)

Isinglass, four-year-old achievements were three wins, the Princess of Wales stakes at Newmarket, the Eclipse stakes at Sandown Park, and the Jockey Club stakes at Newmarket. The following year he sealed a remarkable career by winning the Goud Cup at Ascot, one of the most coveted races in Europe.

Donovan ran in 21 events, of which he won 18. Coronach fulfilled 18 engagements, in 10 of which he was successful. Of the remaining five, he was second in three, and in the other placed third.

A COUPLE were bowling down the highway. The driver's wife suddenly plucked his sleeve.

"John," she said, "I think I left the electric iron turned on."

The car stopped at the first telephone station. The facts were explained to the home town fire department, 90 miles away. A fireman went at once to the address and clicked off the current before any damage was done.

MENLO PARK

The suit brought by Miss Anna May, through her mother, for damages in the sum of $10,000 against Charles Smith and the Menlo Park Fire Department for personal injuries received last summer in Menlo Park was settled out of court yesterday, the fair plaintiff receiving the sum of $2000. Smith was driving a car on the highway opposite the Little Green Door when he ran down Miss May. She was badly cut about the face. A scar above the right eye will be permanent, somewhat marring her beautiful features. A. J. Stebenne, a widely known attorney of Redwood City, represented Miss May in the legal proceedings. At the time of the accident Mr. Smith was a member of the Menlo Park Fire Department and was on his way to a conflageration.

Claude H. Stewart, charged with a felony, and who disappeared from Menlo Park in 1929, was arrested recently at San Diego and brought to San Jose where he is imprisoned. He is to first face charges at Palo Alto.

Menlo Park issued building permits during 1930 totalling $175,690 as offlows:

January	$ 10,000
February	21,700
March	49,550
April	9,800
May	8,355
June	4,900
July	14,850
August	4,340
September	4,310
October	35,580
November	7,700
December	4,605
Total	$175,690

Hoover street was finished yesterday and will be accepted by the city council at its next meeting and the contractor paid. The thoroughfare has been used for the past two weeks and held up very well under the heavy traffic that went over it. The street is a credit to the city, it is well constructed and the best of material put into it so it will last and hold up under the traffic that will go over it.

Judge Hoss, in charge of the unemployment bureau, is devoting considerable time to this sort of cause and is finding positions for many needy persons. The judge hopes to secure numerous jobs from the contractor who is to do the Stanford Park street improvements.

James Murray and Mrs. Fred Worrell were awarded the first prizes at the weekly card party of the Companions' Club held at the Grill residence Thursday night.

Mrs. Irene Roche Ross, who died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Delia Briggs, Hollister, last Saturday following a long illness caused by an heart affection, was buried in Holy Cross Cemetery Monday afternoon. The mortal remains of the young woman were laid beside those of her parents and sister. The deceased was born in Menlo Park forty years ago and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Roche, pioneers of this community. For many years prior to his retirement Mr. Roche was the chief gardener at the Flood estate. Mrs. Ross for years resided at Palo Alto and two years ago went to Hollister to live with her sister, Mrs. Briggs who taught school in this county for many years. She is now the supervisor of the schools at Dunnsville. During the recent campaign she was urged to make the race for superintendent of schools of San Benito county with assurance of success at the polls but she refused to run preferring her present work and happy environment of her home. Another sister, Mrs. Mamie Stevenson, formerly Miss Mamie Roche, gained fame during the world war. She was a nurse at a hospital in Ypres, France, when the building caught fire endangering the lives of 1600 British soldiers. Through the heroic efforts of the young woman all the patients were saved. In appreciation of this service Mrs. Stevenson was awarded the Victoria Cross, the highest honor that can be bestowed by that government on any individual for heroic services. Mrs. Stevenson lives in New York and is the wife of a widely known physician of that city. As a young girl Mrs. Stevenson was a pretty belle of Menlo Park.

Mrs. Ross is survived by several brothers and sisters and a son, aged 14 years now living at Monterey.

Louis Sachs, of Menlo Park, opened a shoe store and repair shop at Burlingame last week. Mr Sachs has had an experience of fifteen years in the shoe business in San Francisco. Mrs. Sachs is a social leader in town taking part in all the city's activities. It is to be hoped the Sachs family will continue to reside in Menlo Park.

On Saturday evening January 31, the Menlo Park Masonic Lodge will give an entertainment in its hall. The affair will be in charge of Joe Veverka and the program will be as follows:

1.—"America," by the entertainers in chorus.

2.—Scotch Airs, Mr. David McLeish.

3.—Violin Solo, Mr. David Miller.

4.—Scotch Reel (in costume), Mr. and Mrs. David McLeish, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith.

5.—Scotch Tales, Mr. Robert Rankin.

6.—Vocal Duet, Mr. and Mrs. David McLeish.

7.—Bagpipe music, Dr. W. D. Gordon.

8.—Vocal Solo, Mrs. Philip Forsythe.

9.—Scotch Songs, Mr. Alexander Cuthbertson.

10.—The Irish Washer's Wife (a dance), Mrs. Whitton.

11.—Harry Lauder's Song, Mr. James Wilkie.

12.—"Auld Lang Syne."

The Maloney block on the corner of Oak Grove avenue and the state highway was sold this week by the owner, Mr. Born, to Mr. Shaw of the University Realty Company of Palo Alto. A fancy lgure was paid for the choice realty. Mr. W. Cruze, who conducts the Menlo Park Furniture in the building, is preparing to move his concern to San Bruno. It was said yesterday that the new owner is to wreck the ancient structure and erect a modern building in its place.

Twenty-five members of Menlo Parlor N. S. G. W. journied to Santa Clara Wednesday evening to participate in the initiating of twenty-two new members in the Santa Clara parlor. The initiatory work was put on by a team from Menlo Park. The team did splendid work and was highly complimented by all who saw the work. After the ceremony a banquet was enjoyed by the new members and visting Native Sons, Past Grand President Thompson and Past Grand President Monohan were present and made addresses.

Mr. Roper and the Associated Oil Company have come to an understanding concerning the moving of the building occupied by Roper on the property recently purchased by the company. The building will be taken for a ride next week.

A joint installation of the Native Sons and Native Daughters last evening drew a large crowd to the lodge hall. Deputy Grand President Phil Blanchard installed the Native Sons and the deputy for the Native Daughters did a like service for the other parlor. A banquet followed the ceremony. Grand Trustee Shortridge and Grand Trustee McShane were present and addressed the assemblage. The occasion was one of the most enjoyable in the history of both organizations.

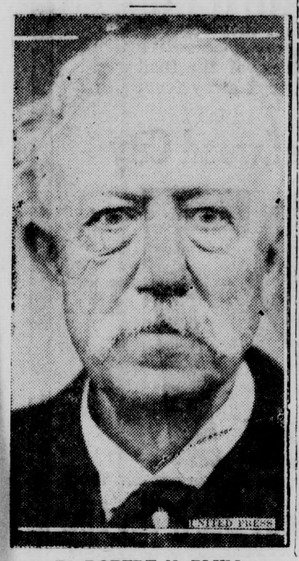
NATION'S CHIEFS HONOR JORDAN'S 80th BIRTHDAY



By ROBERT N. BLUM
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20—(UP)—Messages and good wishes from friends the world over came in a steady stream on Jan. 15 to the cottage of Dr. David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus of Stanford University, who celebrated his 80th birthday on that date.

His quiet, tree-shaded home on the campus of the University he has served so faithfully, was the scene of unusual activity, as numercus friends and associates came to wish him well, and messenger boys came many times with telegrams.

A personal message from President Herbert Hoover was among the congratulatory epistles. Speaking in Washington, the President said "When I first met David Starr Jordan, he was a young university president, bursting with ideas, full of enthusiasm, and a true leader of men.

"For 38 years I have seen him grow in power and spirit until he is now our most cherished Stanford institution."

In a similar message, Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the interior, and president of Stanford, said: "It is a pleasure to congratulate Dr. Jordan on his 80th birthday, and to congratulate Stanford that the birthday is being celebrated on our own campus."

Despite his advanced age, Dr. Jordan continues his active interest in his three chosen fields of endeavor — as a leader in the movement for world peace, in his study of fish, and in his educational work at his beloved Stanford.

Dr. Jordan has gained international fame through his work in the science of ichthyology, or fish study. Louis Agassiz, the great naturalist, found inspiration in studying under Dr. Jordan, and at the International Fisheries Conference at London, Dr. Jordan was the recipient of the highest honors awarded.

Societies seeking to improve international amity find a willing leader and enthusiast in Dr. Jordan, who has always been at the forefront of movements to prevent and outlaw war.

Dr. Jordan, a New Yorker by birth, educated at Cornell, became a Californian by choice in 1891, at which time he became first president of Stanford University.

The first entrance examinations to that now great educational center were held on the front steps of the home of the kindly leader.

Since that time, the university's development has centered around him.

Upon Dr. Jordan's retirement in 1913, he was made chancellor, a position which he still holds.

State To Spend Large Sums For Highways Here

$368,729 Budgeted To County For State Highway Use In Big Program

By ELWOOD SQUIRES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23. (UP)—California will enlarge its already world-famous system of highways to the tune of $110,383,010 during the next two years, according to Governor Rolph's budget.

Counties will have $31,522,500 of the total allocated to them.

San Mateo county will receive $368,729 of this sum, the budget showed.

The majority of counties have been spending this money received from the state on county roads, with the cities forced to shift for themselves in building and maintaining their streets.

But Governor Rolph made it plain in his message that counties must not feel the money is exclusively a contribution to them alone.

"So long as the supervisors spend this money for highway purposes they may use it as they desire, either on county roads outside of municipalities, or they may share it with the cities where in their judgment, it is most desirable," the governor declared.

"The state should not be held accountable for the expenditure of this money, nor should residents of municipalities consider that the state allocates this money for expenditures solely on county roads. This is subject to the control of the supervisors."

A hint that perhaps the cities of California are not getting their full share of the gasoline tax money, which supplies the major part of the money available for highways, was seen in the statement.

Many cities have long contended that the state should at least maintain those streets within municipal boundaries which form direct connections for the state highway system entering the city.

The state heretofore has held aloof from any further splitting of the gasoline tax to provide this money for maintaining city streets.

So the governor's remarks may indicate that this administration will look toward the counties to share their receipts from the highway funds with cities in their boundaries.

However, it is known that the administration will look with favor on the state taking over city street maintainence where it is obvious that the major portion of the traffic is composed of traffic passing through through on the state highway system.

Drunken Driver To Be Sentenced

John Lloyd Jones, San Francisco salesman, will appear in Judge Buck's court tomorrow for sentence on a charge of driving while drunk. Jones was convicted by a jury in the Superior court on Tuesday, the jury recommending that he be given a 90-day sentence in the county jail and that his driving license be suspended for a year.

Jones was arrested in San Carlos on December 20. A San Carlos police officer found it necessary to force Jones' car into an electrolier in order to stop him. An examination of the car disclosed several bottles of liquor. Jones denied the charge and entered a plea of not guilty.

Following his term in the jail here Jones will be called for by the San Francisco police, as he is wanted in that city for stealing an automobile.

FEDERAL OFFICERS NAB LA HONDA STILL

The seizure near La Honda early Tuesday of 600 gallons of corn whiskey, a 150-gallon still, and other equipment was announced by federal prohibition officers.

John Bonini and John Niliano were arrested and charged with owning the outfit. The officers also reported the confiscation of 12,000 gallons of corn mash.

Fighting Parson Named Member Of Fight Com'sn.

San Francisco Clergyman Appointed by Governor Rolph

By HOMER L. ROBERTT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 23—As a youth, Chaplain Leslie C. Kelley, "Fighting Parson" of San Francisco, was a clean, hard fighter.

Now he's a member of the state athletic commission, newly appointed by Governor James Rolph Jr., and his job is to drive the money changers out of the temples of boxing in California.

The first actual ring bout Chaplain Kelley, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church of San Francisco, ever had was when he was a boy in school. He got licked, and admits it.

"I loved to fight," he says. "One youngster in particular, however, was my Nemesis. He was Emil Ceunin, and he was plenty tough. We fought several times but I never could win. Once I went home with a broken nose.

"There wasn't much fighting in high school then, so I went in for track, and represented Lowell in the 880-yard event. Football was next. I played with the College of Pacific eleven, which was no kinder to me than boxing. I broke a shoulder in one game and my hip in another."

The "Fighting Parson" got his first intimate contact with boxing after he joined the army and went overseas. While he was stationed with his "outfit" at St. Mihiel, Souilly and other sectors, the doughboys amused themselves with boxing. He refereed scores of fights in France, and says, "it was there I learned that this sport is really one of the best in the athletic world."

"Boxing bouts in France were a salvation to the soldiers, and during all the time I officiated I discovered nothing that would lead me to criticise the sport. For this reason I felt it my duty to the cause of boxing to accept the honor conferred upon me by Governor Rolph."

The new board member has always been an advocate of commission-regulated boxing. During the attempt in 1928 to repeal the athletic commission law, he left his pulpit many times to enter the rosined ring and tell the voters of California that boxing was a clean, wholesome sport that needed their support and encouragement. At present the Rev. Kelley is chaplain of the Rialto post of the American Legion and of the Citizens Military Training camp at Del Monte.

PREFERRED PEN TO JAIL

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 23. (UP)—Thomas Woods of Bridgeport knew what county jail was like; he had spent three months there awaiting trial on a charge of statutory burglary. So when the court heeded his lawyer's plea for leniency and agreed to give him six months in county jail instead of a year in state's prison, Woods said: "Just a minute. I'll take the year in state's prison. I know what the jail is like. I been there." Nevertheless he got the jail term.

SAHLBERG HEADS POSTAL CLERKS

Oscar Sahlberg, clerk in the Redwood City postoffice, was chosen president of the local of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks Sahlberg will succeed Lewis B. Parham, who held that position during the past year. The election of officers by the postal employee's organization took place at a meeting held Tuesday evening.

Harry M. Hansen was elected vice-president, succeeding C. B. Fox and Glenn Alexander was chosen secretary to succeed Paul E. Lowe. Officers are elected by the local once a year.

ASSISTANT D. A. TRIES FIRST CRIMINAL CASE

Richard Bell, the popular and able assistant district attorney, tried his first criminal case before a jury in the Superior Court Tuesday and won it. Mr. Bell for a long time has had charge of the criminal cases in the lower courts and has appeared in civil cases in the Superior court but this was his first appearance in a criminal case in the higher tribunal. The young man acquitted himself well and demonstrated that he has in him, the stuff from which great criminal lawyers are fashioned.

The case before the jury was that of a man charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. The arresting officer found a case of moonshine whiskey in the car, which was being delivered to a customer by the drunken driver. The jury found the defendant guilty and fixed the penalty at three months in the county jail and a suspension of his driver's license for a period of one year.

THE LIBERTY BELL! AGAIN IT WILL RING!

But according to announcement this grand old bell that once rang true and clear will now have a cracked sound.
Over a national radio hook-up you will hear the bell of Liberty toll its sound for the original Thirteen Colonies.
What a heartache we will have to ponder the Liberties that have parted from us during the last one hundred years. It is well that the bell of Liberty is cracked, considering the fact that a true tone would be so much out of place in these days when Wall Street is so dominant with its clank of gold.
If the people really want real Liberty again—a Liberty that they can feel in their hearts—the Wall Street gang must be cracked, and my co-operative share holder plan for the control by the people themselves, of the food business will give us that much Liberty that Wall Street took away from us.
